

CHURCH PLANTER WANTED

ENGLISH SPEAKING

Join us! We're starting international churches in strategic cities around the world!

CATALYST, the Church Multiplication mission of The International Baptist Convention is searching for a church planter to start an English-speaking, international church in Amsterdam, Netherlands.

We are looking for someone to...

identify communities of English-speaking internationals residing in Amsterdam develop intentional relationships and inroads within the focus communities, make disciples and cultivate a new, self-sustaining local church.

You will use your spiritual gifts and natural abilities to make and reproduce disciples, leaders, small groups, and other churches among the international people of Amsterdam.

Bonus: You will be part of a team of leaders working together to start other international churches across Northern Europe! Learn more here.

This opportunity is for YOU if...

- You're a visionary, strategic leader
- You're an entrepreneurial, pioneering self-starter
- You're a relational, evangelistic disciple-maker
- You're culturally sensitive and competent
- You're a strong communicator – preacher, teacher

We're taking the gospel to 230 million international expats around the world! Join us!

AMSTERDAM AT A GLANCE

Amsterdam is known primarily for its beautiful canals and picturesque architecture, along with progressive cultural and political trends. It's a vibrant city with nearly 800,000 individuals in the heart of the Netherlands. Amsterdam has over an 87% English speaking population. As an international community and with the reputation of being the "Silicone Valley of Europe",

English is the common business language of Amsterdam. Furthermore, English is compulsory for all students in the Netherlands. Amsterdam is a city bursting with potential and ripe for a church to be planted within its borders.
