

CHURCH PLANTER WANTED

ENGLISH SPEAKING

Join us! We're starting international churches in strategic cities around the world!

CATALYST, the Church Multiplication mission of The International Baptist Convention is searching for a church planter to start an English-speaking, international church in Athens, Greece.

We are looking for someone to...

identify communities of English-speaking internationals residing in Athens develop intentional relationships and inroads within the focus communities, make disciples and cultivate a new, self-sustaining local church.

You will use your spiritual gifts and natural abilities to make and reproduce disciples, leaders, small groups, and other churches among the international people of Athens.

Bonus: You will be part of a team of leaders working together to start other international churches across Northern Europe! Learn more here.

This opportunity is for YOU if...

- You're a visionary, strategic leader
- You're an entrepreneurial, pioneering self-starter
- You're a relational, evangelistic disciple-maker
- You're culturally sensitive and competent
- You're a strong communicator – preacher, teacher

We're taking the gospel to 230 million international expats around the world! Join us!

ATHENS AT A GLANCE

Athens is an ancient and global city and one of the biggest economic centers in southeastern Europe. It has a large financial sector and its port is the second largest in the world. Athens has a population of 3.8 million people. English is widely spoken throughout the entire city. There is a spiritual openness amongst the expats, the young, the professional class, and even the secular communities of Athens.

There is great opportunity in this ancient city to see English speakers come together as a church to give Him glory.
